

For someone it's simple and funnier to learn language in company. That is the reason why Translation and Course Centre offers small groups learning. It is aimed at those who attach importance to the motivation and flexibility offered by group learning. Group learning is ideal for those who can follow weekly rhythm of teaching performance. The advantages of group learning are as follows:

- contact with other group members
- work in natural environment where the communication is essential
- possibility of simulation of real life situation
- possibility of learning through game
- work in relaxing and stimulating atmosphere

Group learning is more profitable and accessible variant of other types of learning, you learn from other group members moving towards the mutual aim: overcoming the difficulties in learning languages.
